MOH TRAINING SUBSIDIES FOR THE MASTER OF MEDICINE FAMILY MEDICINE ("MMED(FM)") COLLEGE PROGRAMME

IMPORTANT NOTES

1) The subsidies provide:
   - 50% subsidy for the College MMed(FM) Course Fees
   - 50% subsidy for 1 round of the NUS MMed(FM) Course Fees
   - Subsidies will be capped at $12,500 per trainee
2) Eligibility criteria for subsidies:
   - The trainee has fulfilled all of the entry requirements of the MMed(FM) College Programme
   - The trainee is a Singapore citizen or Singapore permanent resident
   - The trainee has a good disciplinary record with the Singapore Medical Council (SMC)
3) Obligations of the trainee:
   The trainee shall complete both the College MMed(FM) course and the DGMS MMed(FM) course before making their first attempt at the MMed(FM) examination. If unsuccessful on the first attempt, the trainee shall make at least one subsequent attempt at the examination within three years from the date of completion of the College MMed(FM) course. The trainee is not required to repeat the DGMS MMed(FM) course for subsequent examination attempts.
4) Refund Policy:
   All applicants for the subsidies have to sign the Letter of Undertaking. Trainees who fail to fulfil the requirements under the eligibility criteria and obligations are expected to refund any subsidies provided. To claw back the funds provided, MOHH will deduct the requisite amount from the salary of the trainee and transfer the amount to MOH. Trainees who do not receive a salary from MOHH must make a direct payment to MOH.
5) Doctors who are sponsored by their institutions/employers are not eligible for the MOH subsidies.
6) Number of applications:
   The maximum number of applicants that can be subsidized for MMed(FM) College Programme 2027 – 2028 is 27 trainees.
